DEVELOPMENT OF STEEDMAN OIL FIELD IS OKLAHOMA'S SENSATION

Bob Ford and Associates Bring in Two Wells Last Week in Sections 16 and 20 Which Are Good for 45 Barrels Each. Work for the Erection of Additional Rigs Started This Morning, Together With the Spudding in of Two Wells in Section 17.

Although the spectacular development of the new Steedman field 16 miles east of Ada is yet in its infancy, it is very noticeable that oil operators and speculators from the large fields of Texas are in this field and are taking much interest in the affairs that have occurred in the past week.

Bob Ford, who is controlling the majority of lands in and around the new development, started the excitement last Friday and Saturday by bringing in two wells in Sections 16 and 20 of Pontotoc county. These wells were offsets to dry holes drilled several months ago by corporations which evidently conceived the idea that further prospecting was useless. The depth reached by this company was something like 400 feet, which was deemed sufficient for shallow fields. Mr. Ford sunk the new wells to a depth of 500 feet and the original "Ford Sand" was encountered, which revealed a wealth of hidden grease that is of the best grade. The pumps were placed on the well in Section 16 yesterday afternoon and drillers state that this well is sure for a daily production of 45 barrels. The well in Section 20 is being cleaned out today and a pump will be placed on it by tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock.

This morning the "spudding" ceremony of two new wells in Section 17 was held and many people were present to witness the beginning of what promises to be the greatest development in Oklahoma's shallow oil fields. It is an evident fact that shallow wells are the surest producers and are drilled at much less expense and with very little chance of losing tools.

Today 4 new rigs are being erected in various parts of the field and two more are due to arrive in the next ten days, which is an assurance that the work of development is in full swing and the greatest of all shallow oil fields in Oklahoma is making its page in the history of oil development. The sale and purchasing of leases over the entire country is in its prime and it is predicted by the latter part of this week that all lands in this county and those in adjoining will be tied up with those famous ironclad agreements that insure speedy drilling activities.

Here is an incident in Oklahoma oil history that will be long remembered. Bob Ford is a man who came to this country in the early days, worked hard and saved his money, invested it in the lands around Steedman, which he knew were valuable, not only from the wealth of mineral underlying, but these lands are noted for the fine agricultural crops that are produced each year. An old spring that was the only source of water for the pioneers of the Steedman country, revealed the possibilities of oil. Mr. Ford bought and leased as much land as was available at that time and has since added many acres to his already large holdings. The scarcity of labor and drilling material, together with lack of financial aid, prevented the development of this field by Mr. Ford until recently. The bringing in of several small wells some time ago aided him in getting all the financial assistance needed and today the signature of R. L. Ford is legal tender in this country.

Another incident to prove that Mr. Ford believed in this field is the fact that he drilled the new wells in offsets to dry holes. A lot of nerve and money has found and is developing one of Oklahoma's greatest shallow well fields and it could be added that Ada, Okla., "The Big Double-A City," is in the center of the prospective field and is slated to become the distributing point of materials which are for extended development of the field.

Local rental office men report an increased demand for suitable office rooms by outside oil corporations who have interests near here and this insures the world that the ball has started rolling and will never stop until Steedman property and natural resources are placed on the markets.

REDS WILL DEMAND THAT POLES DISARM

VIENNA, July 26.—It is reported in a reliable quarter here, that the first stipulation the Bolsheviks will require of the Poles before entering into peace negotiations will be that the Poles disarm completely, so that the negotiations might not be used to gain time, or to await the arrival of French or British reinforcements.

A wireless from the soviet command to General Pilsudski, president of Poland and head of the Polish army, intercepted here, gave the name of the sector where soviet representatives may meet the Poles to arrange armistice preliminaries.

The English channel was first crossed by swimmers in 1875.

TRUNK MYSTERY IS PARTIALLY SOLVED

DETROIT, Mich., July 26.—The woman, whose mutilated body was shipped in a trunk from Detroit to New York, has been positively identified by the Detroit police, as Mrs. E. Leroy, formerly Miss Katherine Jackson of Starkville, Mass., Police inspector, James McCarty asserted today.

Aviator Not Guilty. Chicago, July 26.—All effort to connect Roy Millen, a former army aviator, with the mysterious Detroit trunk murder, failed today when patrolman Lee Trumbull of the Detroit police department was unable to identify Millen as the missing Eugene Leroy.

Here's Our Hand, Mr. Linscheid

Mr. Adolph Linscheid, the newly appointed president of East Central State Normal, has accepted the position and is in the city today getting acquainted with the people and the school faculty. Mr. Linscheid spoke at the normal this morning at the assembly hour, and not a person heard him who is not confident that the future holds great things in store for the Ada school under his direction.

In the appointment of Mr. Linscheid, the state board has cleared up a most vexatious question for the school and the city of Ada, and there is not a patron of the school, a teacher or a business man in the city who cannot, and who will not, step into the breach and do everything that lies within their power to back the school and uphold the hands of the new management.

Here's our hands and our hearts, Mr. Linscheid, and we invite you to make the News office your home and to call upon us in any emergency for any service we may be able to render in behalf of the great institution of which every patriotic citizen of Ada and Pontotoc County is justly proud.

PLEASURE

Who is there that would condemn one for giving over to wholesome pleasures once and awhile? Surely no one with any understanding of human nature. Recreation and amusement have their proper place and are essential to keeping the body fit and the humor good.

But, as the case with many other things, some folks go to seed on pleasures. They are continually seeking the hilarious and rarely stop for serious thinking. They are quite fit at once when there is not some big amusement at hand.

Also, far too many have had an erroneous idea of true pleasure. Indulging in riotous living and giving way to the baser natures of one's make-up seems to be quite an accepted definition. However, the right sort of pleasure is quite oppositely defined. It is the way we have been hoodwinking ourselves that makes us believe that to enjoy life to the full we must indulge the pleasures of sin. Pleasure, to be true pleasure, must be in accord with the laws of holy writ.—O.V.M.

NEW PLAN TO INCREASE FOOD

OPENING OF ST. LAWRENCE RIVER FOR SEA GOING VESSELS SOLUTION SAYS WISE ONES

DETROIT, Mich., July 24.—Importance of opening the upper St. Lawrence river to ocean going vessels as a means of enhancing the world's food supply, was pointed out in a telegram from Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater congress and read to the congress today. Mr. Hoover had been asked to attend the congress but was unable to appear.

"There is absolutely no question that requires so definitely a constructive program as our whole transportation problem," the telegram said. "Both railroads and waterways are far behind the productivity of our country. Agriculture and general industry are embarrassed by lack of transportation and the margins between producer and consumer are widened extravagantly by failure to obtain proper distribution.

"In the years to come the country will find that proper outlet for the bulk of its commodities will lie by water, rather than rail. We need a national study and a national program of transportation development, and such a program will embrace not only improvement of interior waterways, but development of the St. Lawrence.

"That the ports of the Great Lakes can be put effectively on a seaboard with a comparatively moderate expenditure is unquestioned and such a step will improve enormously the prosperity of 15 states, decrease cost of distributing commodities and increase returns to the producer.

"It is necessary that these problems shall be handled in a definite and co-ordinated manner, that a positive policy be outlined by the government extending over a term of years for their accomplishment and that they be taken out of partisan politics and placed in the hands of competent managers.

Bigamy Charge Is Filed Against Caddo Woman

Mary Lackey was brought in from Caddo yesterday by Undersheriff Kennedy on a charge of adhering to the doctrine and practice of plural marriage. It is charged that she married two entirely different men in Pontotoc county without waiting for either one to die or be divorced, which practice is contrary to the peace and dignity of the state of Oklahoma.

MORE SEATS IN CONGRESS

INCREASE IN POPULATION ENTITLES TEN STATES TO 65 NEW MEMBERS IN HOUSE.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Unless the membership of the house is increased from 435 to at least 500 to meet the increased population shown by the 1920 census, 10 states will lose one or more representatives, according to Representative Siegel of New York, chairman of the Census committee which will frame the new apportionment bill. Those states are:

Indiana, Iowa and Missouri, which will lose two congressmen each; and Illinois, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Nebraska, Vermont and Virginia, which will lose one congressman each.

Mr. Siegel explains that if the house membership is retained at its present figure, it will be necessary to increase the population basis in each congressional district beyond the 211,000 or major portion thereof now fixed. If this is done, he says, the 10 states named will lose one or more of the present districts because their populations have not increased in the proportion to those of other states.

"On the basis of the estimated population of 106,000,000 for the whole country in 1920, an increase of approximately 14,000,000 in 10 years, Mr. Siegel says 65 or 66 new seats in the house must be created if the 10 states are to retain their present numerical representation. While precedent warrants the increase, Mr. Siegel declares there is strong opposition to it on the part of some of the present representatives, while others favor reduction to as few as 300 members.

Mr. Siegel expects the work of framing the new apportionment bill in accord with the new population to begin with the reconvening of congress in December and he anticipates that measure will be passed early in 1921.

Every decade since 1790, with the single exception of 1840, the house membership has been enlarged to keep pace with the growing population. Now the house floor is crowded when all members are present; seats nearly fill the chamber; the old individual desks have been discarded and an increase in membership probably will have to be solved by narrowing the width of the seats.

Ten years ago the house membership was increased from 391 to 435 on the basis of a population of 91,972,266 and the only exception to such a procedure occurred in 1840 when 10 congressmen were knocked out by the apportionment, the membership being fixed at 232 after having been 42 for 10 years. The last apportionment kept intact the numerical strength of all state delegations, besides providing for certain increases, but even then several congressional districts fell short of the required maximum basis of 211,000 population.

GOVERNOR COX'S FATHER LIVES TO SEE OLD AMBITION REALIZED

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Cox
A lifelong ambition of Gilbert Cox of Camden, Ohio, has been to live to see his son "Jimmie" nominated for the presidency. Today James M. Cox is the Democratic nominee. Governor Cox's mother is not living. The woman in the photo is his step-mother.

COX NOW DRAFTING ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

By the Associated Press

DAYTON, O., July 26.—Rough drafting of his address accepting the democrat party nomination for president was the immediate task today of Governor Cox, following completion of the major plans for the notification ceremony August 7th. These, it has been decided, will be at the Montgomery county fair grounds, in his city, instead of at Tralensend, the Governor's home, in order to accommodate crowds expected.

Although Governor Cox has many important features of his address outlined, mentally, he had on his desk today formidable piles of data, including many suggestions to digest. He planned to lock himself in his library and if possible send his address to the printers next Friday morning.

To Remind You
That Ada is becoming an oil center is the repetition of a statement made elsewhere in this issue, but we feel that the news is worthy of mention every few minutes.

This means, new blood and new money will rush into this country with the expectation of "getting in on the deal." This is true in every newly opened oil development district in the world. A bountiful supply of money will change hands within the next thirty days. Those who are already in this country have the advantage in many ways.

Ada affords the best of business institutions. Oil men will encounter no difficulties in securing everything they need in this city. Hotels with splendid accommodations are at their command, what more is needed?

Ada has a real paper that will keep its readers posted on the events that occur daily in the oil fields. Are you in on the deal? If not, call up the circulation department and have The News sent to your address, or better still wrap up a little money and a letter with mailing instructions.

DR. DORTON MUST BE SET FREE AT ONCE

By the Associated Press

BERLIN, July 26.—Dr. H. A. Dorton, the separated leader in the Rhineland, who was arrested recently by German authorities, has been set free upon the government order. The high commissioner in the Rhineland last evening informed the German imperial commander there that unless Doctor Dorton was surrendered and brought back to the Rhineland the commission would take the most energetic measures, according to news received at the foreign office today.

SASAKWA FAMILY KILLED NEAR CANEY

By News Special Service

DURANT, Okla., July 26.—Two persons were killed and two badly injured that they died later between Caney and Tushka, north of here, on the Katy this morning when the Texas Special, traveling at about seventy miles an hour, hit the auto in which the Pruitt family were riding. The mother and one child were killed outright, the father dying on the train, which stopped and picked its victims up. One daughter was brought to the hospital here, dying from her injuries about 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The full names of the dead family were not ascertained.

The car in which the family were driving is said to have been carried three-quarters of a mile. The victims' home is said to be either at Sasakwa or Holdenville. The bodies were taken in charge here by undertakers and prepared for burial. Relatives are expected immediately.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH ORDINATION SERVICE

An ordination service was held yesterday morning at the Christian church. The purpose was to set apart to the offices of elder and deacon those who had been chosen for that purpose. Preceding the ordination the minister presented the teaching of the Scriptures on this important subject. He showed that the church from four standpoints is the greatest of all institutions: 1. The person who brought it into existence; 2. Its purpose; 3. The persons who have been connected with it; 4. The good it has done in the world.

Three classes of officers were to remain permanently in the church—evangelists, elders and deacons. These are to be set apart by fasting, prayer, and the laying on of hands. This is plain from Acts 6:1-6; 13:1-3; 14:23; 1 Tim. 4:14; 1 Tim. 5:22. Prof. M. L. Perkins, long one of the elders of this church, assisted the minister in setting the brethren apart. This was done by both persons laying their hands on each one's head and appropriate words being spoken by the minister. The following persons were thus ordained: Elders, C. E. Cunningham, Thomas P. Holt, Eli Vertrees, B. C. Harbert and P. T. Drummond, L. T. Walters and W. F. Cox have been ordained. Deacons: Walter Goynes, A. W. Wadlington, E. E. Emerson, M. A. Nickell, M. E. Qualls, C. A. Cummins and H. L. Crider. J. U. Criswell was compelled to be out of town. He will be ordained next Sunday.

A fine audience gathered in the evening to hear the second and last of the sermons on "How we got our Bible." The minister told how the Bible came to be printed in the English language and how it became the people's book.

ALLEN AND ADA EACH WIN GAME

RECORD CROWD WITNESSES ADA VICTORY OVER ALLEN OILERS AFTER LOSING FIRST GAME.

Two of the best games ever witnessed on the local grounds, between the Allen Oilers and the Ada team, was played at fair park Saturday and Sunday and resulted in the winning of the first by Allen and the second by Ada. Both games were shutouts and were hard fought throughout. The outstanding features were the brilliant fielding and effectiveness of the hurlers of both clubs.

The first game was a victory for the invaders after a pitcher's duel between "Frisco" Vernon of the Allen aggregation and Sigler of the local club. Vernon was working in great form and kept the local hits well scattered, although Sigler was equally as effective. The game was full of thrills and was featured by wonderful fielding when Ada's infield accepted many hard chances and fielded perfectly what seemingly were clean hits. Both pitchers got a number of strikeouts, with Sigler leading in that respect.

For seven innings Saturday's game went scoreless, with Ada leading in the number of hits garnered. In the eighth the Oilers led off with a single to right by Medler. Vernon sacrificed him to second, McNally hit to center for a single, scoring Medler as Stagner erred on Robinson's throw home. In the ninth by a series of scratch hits Allen sent two more scores across for a total of three. In a desperate effort to overcome the big lead Manager Coleman sent in pinch hitters who were unable to hit safely the offerings of Vernon and the game ended with Allen winning the first game of the season from Ada by a score of 3 to 0. Rutledge hit best for Ada but was unable to score.

Before the largest crowd on record Ada won over the Oilers on Sunday, which was also a pitcher's battle between Walkup, Allen's wonderful southpaw, and Ryan, Ada's newest mound man. Ryan had the edge on Walkup, as only 4 hits were allowed to the hard hitting Oilers, while Ada gathered 5 hits off the southpaw. The game was free of thrills and was featured by the number of strikeouts made by both pitchers, Walkup getting 14 and Ryan 12.

In the third inning after Allen had gone down in order, Ada started with an infield hit by Young, Stagner followed with an infield hit, Ryan sacrificed both men ahead a base, Young scoring on Strain's error on a pitched ball. Again in the sixth after Allen had scored, Ryan doubled to left, Beaver sacrificed Ryan to third, Wanner bunts, scoring Ryan on a squeeze play. Never again during the game was Ryan in danger. In Allen's last effort to score in the ninth it looked possible when Brazil doubled to center, but Strain failed to deliver the hit and the game came to a close with Ada winning by a score of 2 to 0. Ryan's hitting was good and a noticeable thing was the inability of Rutledge or Strain, the leading hitters of their respective clubs, to hit safely.

It was estimated by some that 3,000 fans witnessed Sunday's game and everyone seemed to enjoy the game as never before.

Daisies.

They lift their heads to heaven,
seeking to mingle with the stars—millions of them, scattered in wild profusion over meadow and pasture land. Men walk on them, tramp them down—but they rise again, so-rene, confident, searching the light which gives them life.

Daisies! Our fields are full of them. From afar their white heads give color to the landscape. Their yellow centered blossoms, blown by the wind, wave obedience to the day and, by their graceful beckoning, invite us to take them home.

Daisies! Our empty vases call for them; our umbrella stands, our jardanieres yearn for their beautiful blossoms. And they are so near to us, so easy to get, that it seems a pity to waste their beauty in an unfrequented field.

Get them for the house, for the office, to wear. Even though like weeds they grow, God's love shines from their faces and blesses the corner they fill.—Milwaukee Jour-

NOVEL FROCK SEEN
AT FRENCH RACES

By ELOISE.

The racing season in France always contributes any number of novel and unusual fashions to the woman who goes in for extremes.
All of the well known modistes of the Paris boulevards send their mannequins to attend the races and they are by no means the least of the attractions at these festive affairs with their startling styles and painted cheeks. Many of our American designers get ideas from these exhibitions at the races just as many of our small dressmakers get ideas from the theatrical productions they see.

This pretty Parisian who is wearing an afternoon frock of dark tri-cotine was snapped at the races recently. The blouse is a simple affair made in kimono style while the skirt looks like a small apron, the two sides being left open and filled in with lighter material. The most unique part of the whole frock is the panel which trims the blouse and skirt. It is made of filet lace after the fashion of the woolen sweaters. The lighter material shows through this lace with a very pleasing effect. The short skirt marks the frock as Parisian as no feature could. Note the little tam shaped hat with its curled ostrich feather drooping down over the ear and cheek.

Whipped Cream.

Cream is better for whipping if 24 or 36 hours old. If heavy cream is used it is well to dilute from 1-4 to 1-3 its bulk in milk; thin cream is whipped without being diluted. Cream should be thoroughly chilled for whipping. Turn cream into a bowl (do not select the bowl too large), set in a pan of crushed ice, to which water is added that the cream may be quickly chilled; without water in ice the cream will not be so thoroughly chilled. The dover egg beater is best for whipping cream; undiluted heavy cream if beaten for a moment too long will come to butter.

Powdered sugar may be added if desired and cream whipped just once more to mix well. May be flavored with any fruit juices. Put in ice until ready to serve.

News From Movieland

Word came to us that Marion pretty little film star is to hark will she dance in the films or out

Read and Weep, Girls.

If Richard Barthelmess is your very favorite actor prepare to shed tears now. If you have sent him mad crush notes and scented letters retire to your boudoir and sob for Richard has taken unto himself a wife. This very young and very handsome leading man married
Mary Hay Caldwell of New York City a few days ago. Richard is twenty-five years old and his wife is but eighteen.

She is reported as being an unusually charming girl. She was the little girl in the 1919 Follies who did the act with the "dog."
She also appeared in the "Nine O'Clock Frolic." "Way Down
East," in which she made her recent screen appearance, is not her first picture. She was seen as a dancer in the dugout scene in Griffith's "Hearts of the World." At that time she was studying dancing under Ruth St. Dennis at Deni-shawn. Griffith advised her to go on the stage and get a little more experience before going in for a screen career. Miss Hay followed his advice and is now considered a real "find."

She is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Frank Merrill Caldwell.

RUSH SPRINGS, July 23.—Farmers near Rush Springs report they have one of the most promising corn crops experienced in several years. With rains of the last few weeks, the corn will make a crop without further moisture, it is said. An average of thirty-five bushels an acre is expected.

MUSKOGEE, July 23.—R. J. Tighe, superintendent, reports the most efficient corps of teachers in the history of the public schools has been secured for the ensuing school year here. High standards required for teachers has brought this condition about, Tighe says, and of 200 positions to be filled only a few remain vacant.

TERRELL, July 23.—A second hail storm has reduced the prospective crop of watermelons in Terrell district, Jefferson county, from 300 cars to less than 25 cars, according to word sent to E. C. Dustin, secretary of the state market commission. J. A. Farquarson, fruit expert of the state board of agriculture, made the report.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 23.—Dr. W. R. OKLAHOMA CITY, July 26.—Figures compiled by John Connolly, state fire marshal, show that fire losses in Oklahoma last month were $124,767.50, the lowest of any month of June since 1914. Seventy-five fires were reported, of which gas line explosions caused eleven and trash and rubbish eight. The annual report of the fire marshal for 1919 shows losses during the year to be the lowest in the history of the department, aggregating $2,937,026.91. Losses in the month of May were $74,125, with fifty-one fires reported.

EDMOND, July 23.—Crops grown on terraced land along the hillsides of Oklahoma, through terracing, can be brought into more than twice the yield of the more level lands which do not need terracing, according to a test made here this summer. It was discovered in the demonstration that land which is being washed away and considered almost valueless can be made to produce better crops than rolling land, because the terracing holds back the surplus water and at the same time prevents washing of the soil. It was shown in the test made on a farm near here that oats, sown on terraced land, at the same time and with the same seed as on an adjoining level tract, produced a larger yield by half on the terraced area than on the tract not so treated.

CARDINALS' CLIMB IS TALK OF LEAGUE; ST. LOUIS FANS DIPPY

The on-coming Cardinals are the talk of the National league right now. Close on the heels of the league-leading Reds they are starting the big leagues with their class. It's the first time in about thirty-two years that the St. Louis fans have had a rip-snorting team and they're just about in the booby-hatch. Ferdie Schupp's hurling, Jack Fournier's game at first and the batting and utility work of Harold Janvin are contributing factors in the club's climb.

OKMULGEE, Okla., July 26.—To the few Creek Indians of primitive manners and customs, children of the forest when under tribal rule, their old capital building and grounds, taking up a city block in the heart of the business district here, is to be preserved as a landmark. Although entering upon a new kind of lease, the building and grounds, now the property of the city and recently put under the management of the park board for changes and improvements, must be kept intact. Creek sentiment demanding that whatever alteration to interior or whatever improvement in the capital grounds is made, the old landmark and trees must not be destroyed.

On a marble slab in the wall, at the left of the north door as one enters the old gray sandstone building, the inscription may be seen: "Muskogee National Capitol, erected A. D. 1878, building committee, James McHenry, W. E. Brown, John McIntosh, contractor, W. G. Frayer, Builder, L. H. McDermott." "Wilcox and Hobby, marble dealers, Fort Scott, Kansas." The word "Muskogee" is interpreted by the Creeks to mean "One who seeks the Home of the Rising Sun". The eagle weather-vane which with outstretched wings, surmounts the old building, turns in every direction at the bent of the wind, but when looking westward, toward the setting sun, it seems in harmony with the passing of the generation who sought "Muskogee", the seat of "The Rising Sun". The name "Creek Indians" was given them after they had ceased their wanderings and had settled

FOR CONGRESS Ex-Judge ROBERT WHEELER of Tecumseh

I am a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fourth district, subject to the August 3, primary. I am for the time honored principles of personal rights and personal liberty that the Democratic party always stood for and championed until a part of it, under the excitement and tension of the great war, was carried away by men whose only purpose was to disrupt and divide the party. I have never used liquor as a beverage, but believe it to be a valuable medicine, and if I am elected to congress I will do all in my power to have Congress enact liberal laws that will permit citizens to procure liquor for medicinal purposes without unnecessary red tape or vexatious restrictions; leaving each to be sole judge of his needs and requirements for the preservation of the health of himself and family. The 18th amendment has eliminated the saloon, so that its return is no longer a possible factor or a question. But we ought not to return to the New England blue laws, or permit further encroachments on our remaining liberties. In this boasted free country it is no longer a question of liquor, but a question of personal rights and American manhood. I am also in favor of liberal laws that will encourage the full development of the oil, mineral and manufacturing industries of the state, and enable the railroads to develop so as to be able to perform the services required of them; with fair wages and fair treatment for employees in every industry. But I am unalterably against profiteering, extravagance, graft, a large standing army, compulsory military training and political cowardice. If the above meets with your approval, I will highly value and appreciate your support and influence. Yours very truly, Political Adv. ROBERT WHEELER. 7-8-4th-4th, sat.

MARINES ARE EVER FIGHTING

BUSY IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD SETTLING SMALL SCRAPS OF VARIOUS KINDS

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 26.—For Uncle Sam's Marines the fighting is never at an end. While the Great War and their part in its history, they still are busy in the far corners of the world settling small disturbances, guarding government property and awaiting any eventuality. In Haiti and San Domingo nearly 4,000 "Devil Dogs," as the Germans came to call them after Belleau Wood, are maintaining order and bringing recalcitrant bands to justice. It is not a "play" job by any means and at times lately it has assumed the proportions of real war. Casualty lists are not lacking and almost every week there come to headquarters here the names of "leathernecks" killed or wounded in clashes with bandits and revolutionaries. "In China the legation guard of 275 marines at Peking is ever prepared for any emergency and for a time recently it appeared that they would be forced into action against Chinese revolutionists who were threatening to attack the Chinese capital.

In Nicaragua another legation guard is maintained, while the marines are aboard American warships in Mexican waters prepared on short notice to protect American lives and property should their services be required.

In Haiti, the corps is represented by 1,700 officers and men in two small regiments comprising the First Provisional brigade. The brigade is commanded by Colonel J. H. Russell and the two regiments by Colonels L. M. Little and R. C. Berkeley. Of late conditions in Haiti have quieted down to some extent and although skirmishes with bandits, are still a common occurrence it is said at headquarters that, the marines "have the situation well in hand."

In San Domingo an even greater force of soldier-sailors are on duty. Here 2,200 marines, organized into three regiments from the Second Provisional Brigade, commanded by Brigadier General Logan Feland. In the northern part of the island the Fourth regiment, under Colonel Dion Williams, is taking things easy but in the south the Fifteenth regiment is in the field in small detachments, chasing bandits and outlaws and quite often getting a smell of gunpowder. The regiment is commanded by Colonel J. C. Breckinridge. General Feland and his staff have headquarters at San Domingo City and the Third Regiment is stationed there in reserve. Since the killing of the bandit leader Charlemagne and a number of his followers, and the surrender of Benoit Bertraville, another bandit chieftain, San Domingo has assumed a quieter aspect, headquarters' officials declare, and it is believed that there will be little more active fighting on the island. However, the greater part of the brigade probably will be kept at San Domingo for some time to guard against any outbreak.

Rear Admiral Snowden is military governor of both Haiti and San Domingo and the marine forces are directly under his command. No unusual occurrences have been reported recently by Captain J. H.

Underhill, commanding the guard at the United States legation at Managua, Nicaragua. Two companies are maintained at this post.

ENEMY PLEASED IF GORE WINS

NEW YORK EDITOR SAYS THAT VICTORY FOR GORE WOULD HURT EASTERN DEMOCRATS.

Frank C. Armstrong of Maud, editor of the Maud Monitor, is in receipt of a very interesting letter concerning the senatorial race in Oklahoma from his uncle, Frank J. Price of New York. Mr. Price is chief editorial writer on the New York Telegraph and one of the country's keenest political writers. The letter to Mr. Armstrong follows:

NEW YORK, July 7.—If the Democrats of Oklahoma should realize how keenly interested we of the East are in their state primary election, and how thoroughly convinced we are that it is of national significance, they would, in the judgement of the writer, rally as one man to the support of the Hon. Scott Ferris.

Something more than the political fortunes of Scott Ferris, and Thomas P. Gore is at stake, as we, from our detached and unusually neutral position, view the situation. First of all we are concerned for the triumph next November of the Democratic National ticket, headed by a constructive statesman who has been a leader and not a follower, builder and not an obedient servant of a party machine.

Your correspondent has been more or less active in no fewer than nine presidential campaigns. He has attended National Conventions, with two or three exceptions, since 1888, and he lays modest claims to a reasonable amount of political foresight. The outlook here, as he visualizes it thus early, is entirely favorable to the Democratic National ticket. New York is always a doubtful state, but just now, the Democratic party is united as never before in recent years, while the Republican state organization is in disrepute. There is more than an even chance that James M. Cox will win out, but we need moral support from every section of the land, and one way to give us that moral support is to demonstrate that Democratic ideals are not dormant elsewhere.

Whatever his status at home, Thomas P. Gore is looked upon by a Senator who signally failed his country in the hour of its greatest need and peril. His success as at the primary polls would be taken by a considerable element as a repudiation of Democratic ideals and party government. The effect would be discouraging.

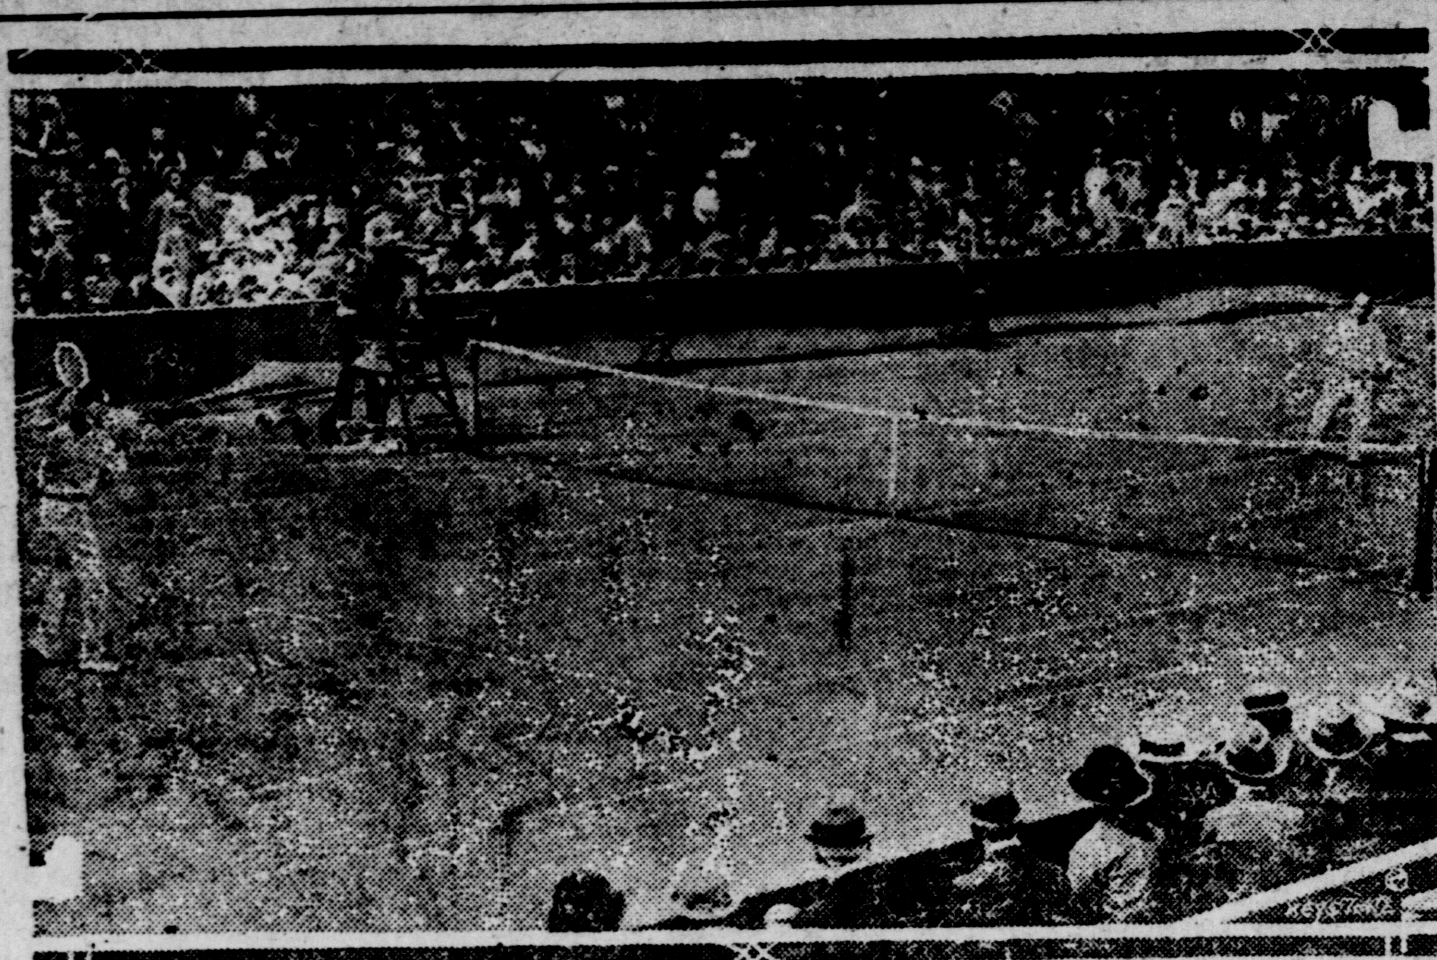

I do not refer to New York alone but to the adjoining doubtful states of New Jersey and Connecticut. Former service men, a majority of whom, at this stage of the campaign, lean toward the Democratic National candidates, would be apt to resent the exhibition any where of a public official of unsatisfactory record toward them and toward the ideals for which they fought.

The Oklahoma primaries are looked up as something of a test. If Gore is selected as the Democratic candidate, every opposition paper in the Union will spread the fact; every Republican editorial writer will cite his victory as a repudiation of the administration and all it stands for, and the doubtful, uncertain wavering vote in eastern state will react to it in a manner unfavorable to the party's candidate for president.

And there is another factor of serious importance. It is not only possible but probable that we opponents in November. But the margin will be small at best and there should be no suspicion attaching to the party loyalty of any Senator when it comes to the organization of the body. Every vote will count.

We have seen what an opposition Senate can do in the way of blocking a president, and we also know that more than one Democratic Senator—including Senator Gore, gave the Republicans aid and comfort. Sincerely believing as I do that a Democratic president will be elected, I hope to see him supported by a majority in the Senate, composed of such stalwart Democrats of ability as Scott Ferris, and this, I take it, is the attitude of loyal party men everywhere.

Mr. Ferris' record in the lower house has marked him as a statesman of parts, a legislator worthy of the highest honors. He believes in the doctrine that he who serves his country best serves his party best, and there is no blemish on his official record. He stands four-square on every issue. He is an American to the backbone, and he has done more for the farmers of this country than any Representatives of recent times. This is conceded in Washington. He was the most untiring and most capable chairman of the committee on public lands that ever held that important post.

Here in the east at least, Mr. Gore is best known as a disturber of the peace of his own party; as a man of doubtful stability during the war; an opologist for Pro-Germanism, and an associate of partisan Republications like Lodge, Knox and Penrose in their efforts to discredit a great democratic president.

May I close with a message to the Democrats of Oklahoma; We of the East, who have to fight annually in support of our Democracy and who cling to the Jeffersonian traditions in the face of a militant and sleepless opposition, have stripped to win this battle. Will you send us a word of cheer by letting us know on your primary day that you have selected a democrat who will be help and not hindrance in the Senate Chamber at Washington.

TO SHOOT UP OLD BATTLESHIP IOWA AS TARGET

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 26. — The once famous battleship Iowa, which played no small part in the destruction of Cervera's fleet at Santiago is being prepared at the Philadelphia navy yard for what naval officers say will be one of the most unique target experiments ever attempted.

Proceeding unmanned, but under her own steam and controlled by radio, probably from seaplanes, the old seafighter will become the objective of the big guns of the Atlantic fleet superdreadnaughts in Chesapeake Bay late this summer. This will be the first time that American warships have used a moving craft for a target except in actual war.

Two of the Iowa's coal burning boilers are being converted to burn oil so the ship may continue under way with no one aboard once her fires have been started burning and her engines placed in motion.

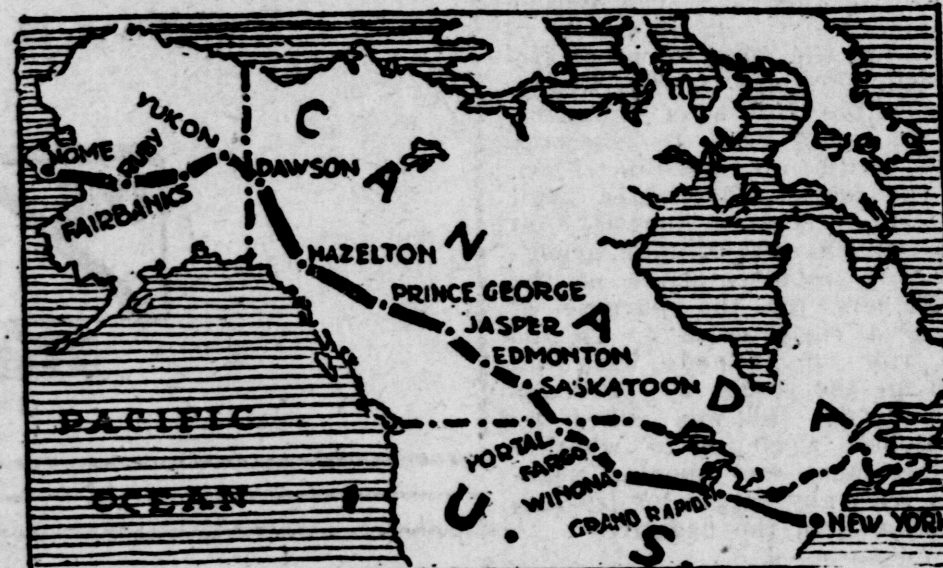

It is expected that the unique practice will give the gunpointers of the Atlantic fleet an opportunity to test their ability under conditions as nearly like those to be expected in battle as can be obtained. Smoke screens will be thrown around the Iowa during the runs and the course will be changed at will through the radio control system, necessitating a change in range on all the firing ships, exactly as would occur in action.

The Iowa has already been stripped of some of its guns and much valuable metal and the practice will be continued until the old vessel, a mass of twisted metal, sinks beneath the waves to join the old Texas, which, as the San Marcos, was used for a stationary target years ago.

The battleship Ohio has been turned over to the Bureau of Steam Engineering for purposes of experiment in radio control and a staff of technical officers has been placed on board to arrange the Iowa practice.

WAR DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR NEW YORK TO NOME AIR FLIGHT

Route of New York to Nome flight.

The war department has announced complete plans for an experimental airplane flight from New York to Nome, Alaska, and back. The expedition, composed of four machines of the DH-4B type, manned by army aviators, will start from Mitchell field, L. I., on July 15. The immediate purpose of the experiment is to show the possibility of aerial mail service between inland cities of Alaska and cities along the route and the metropolitan centers of the United States. At present a letter from the interior of Alaska requires thirty days to reach New York. It is hoped to reduce this time to three days by the use of airplanes. The route to be followed and the stations which have already been established are shown on the map.

OUIJA BOARDS TO SOLVE BIG MURDER PUZZLE

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 26. — Ouija boards by the score have volunteered to solve the mysterious murder of Joseph Bowen Elwell, turfman, card expert and "Don Juan."

Since the body of the gambler was found in his handsome residence here last month, with a bullet thru the forehead, alleged clues, motives and revelations of the murderer himself have been gathered from ethereal planes by the thousands and dumped upon an admittedly bewildered staff of the District attorney's office.

All of these occult communications are not discarded. While disclaiming any faith in Ouija's ability as a crime investigator, the district attorney nevertheless admits that he has assigned a man to the special duty of reading occult contributions and to submit to him personally any conveying apparently useful information. An anonymous communication purporting to be an occult revelation may contain a valuable clue, Mr. Swann believes, his theory being that the criminal might use this method of informing on a confederate.

Anonymous communicants purport to reveal prelude, plot and climax of the crime.

The missing automatic pistol with which Elwell was shot has been located by Ouija boards or other "supernatural" means in every part of the Elwell home, from the sitting room in which the murder was committed down into the basement and up to the roof.

Until the murderer is apprehended, both the police and district attorney's staff say the expect no surcease from the persistent prof-ligacy of occult assistance now being forced on them.

GORE AND HIS FRIENDS

(Muskogee Phoenix)

Of course, the Gore managers say, the socialists are for Gore.

Of course, they are. Whatever else may be said of the socialists they "stick together," they stand by the men who stand by them.

And no political party or no group of men will wholeheartedly fight for the nomination or election of a candidate for office who, they believe, will not continue to advocate the same doctrines and policies to which they subscribe.

We had not expected that the socialists would be quite so brazen as to come out into the open in their support of Gore. But we find in our own section of the state Jeff A. Fowler, who was a candidate for representative on the socialist ticket in Arkansas and who is a regular subscriber to the "Appeal to Reason" making speeches for Gore from the platform.

Down in Pontotoc and Coal Counties Ed Kerr is openly championing his cause. He introduced Gore at Stonewall. Kerr before the war was a socialist, and a W. C. U. In 1917 he was arrested for draft resisting and spent some time behind the bars.

In Marshall County, Hurt of Madill, a bitter socialist, is leading the Gore fight.

In Choctaw County, Clark of Boswell is the Gore mainstay. Clark has been twice elected to office on the socialist ticket and he is a brother of Stanley J. Clark, now in Leavenworth for sedition.

In Seminole County it is Snider, for eight years a socialist leader in Oklahoma.

Down near Hugo Gore's campaigner is a socialist by the name of Brice.

And so it is throughout the state. Everywhere we find the socialists, these W. C. U., these draft resisters and rebellionists, doing their utmost to send their friend Gore back to the senate.

And why should they not? Gore helped them all he could. Surely we have not forgotten that when these men were arrested after the draft uprising against their government letters of encouragement from Senator Gore were found in the pockets of many of them.

WE ARE WELL PLEASED

The accession of Mr. Linscheid to the presidency of East Central Normal will inevitably lead to a closer cooperation between East Central in Ada and Southeastern in Durant. It will also go a long way to cement the friendship between the two cities.

Hereafter when the Durant athletes come to Ada to meet the local contestants on the gridiron or the diamond, they will be met and warmly welcomed by the students of their former instructor. And when the teams from Ada visit Durant they will receive a hearty welcome from those who want to show a good time "to Mr. Linscheid's pupils." It will be a happy situation from the standpoint of both schools and both cities.

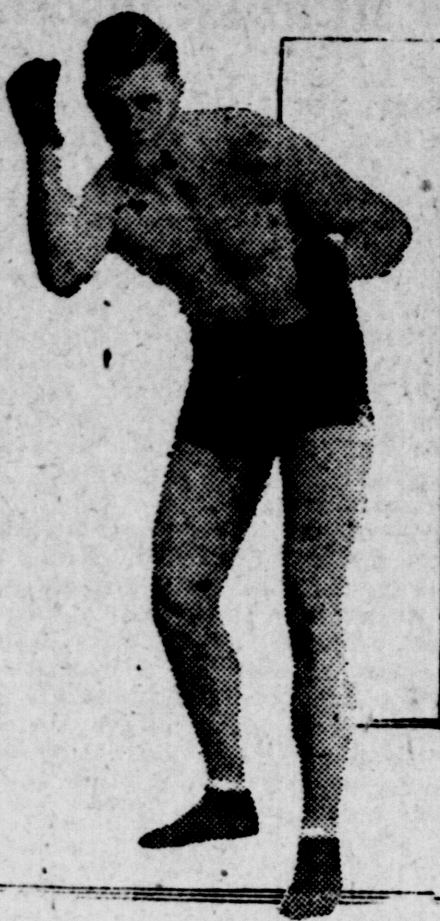

The people of these two leading cities of the southeastern quarter of the state are coming more and more to realize the interdependence of these two normal schools. Anyone who has served in the Oklahoma legislature knows that whatever helps one school helps the other. Whatever hurts one school injures the other. Moreover, it has been found impossible to help one of these schools without helping the other or to hurt one without hurting the other.

In past experiences it has been seen that with East Central and Southeastern working together both get what they are entitled to. It has also been found, neither can get what it is entitled to without the assistance of the other. And best of all it has been found that the two institutions are in no sense competitors, but that each occupies its own distinctive field within which its interests are supreme.

The coming of Mr. Linscheid to Ada is most fortunate in many respects, not the least of which will be the strengthening of a strong spirit of cooperation between Ada and Durant. This is not only important to the growth of the two normals interested but vital to their progress and well being. The Evening News regards the election of Mr. Linscheid as a most fortunate and praiseworthy step on the part of the state board of education.

The Southeastern normal will receive a severe blow by the departure of Prof. A. Linscheid, who has been elected president of the East Central normal. He is one of the best fitted men that has ever been associated with the normal here and his going will be regretted by every citizen. He has just completed over a year's work in the state university which better qualifies him for this work. As a man, as a citizen and as a Christian, A. Linscheid will measure up to the fullest and highest standard. We rejoice with you, Linscheid, in your advancement, but we are sorrowful and we will miss you greatly.—Durant Democrat.

BRENNAN WANTS ANOTHER CHANCE AT JACK DEMPSEY

Bill Brennan.

"Don't think Dempsey put me away when I fought him two years ago," says Bill Brennan. "The records have me down as being stopped in the seventh round, but the mat had so much rosin on it that when I swung a right at Jack I missed and my foot stuck to the mat, and over I went, turning my ankle in the fall."

"I staid with him, though, till the seventh, when I was unable to stand up and had to quit, but Dempsey did not slip me the K. O." Bill is fast and hits like a mule's kick, as he recently demonstrated by his K. O. of Ole Anderson. He ranks with Fulton in the big boys' division.

Brennan will probably be the next opponent of Dempsey. Several cities have recently made bids for a Brennan-Dempsey battle.

FRENCH REFUSE TO RECOGNIZE REDS

By the Associated Press

PARIS, July 26.—France has not ceased to consider the Soviet government as an irregular one, not supported by the free will of the people and consequently it has resisted all actions that might even remotely be considered as recognition.

It is pointed out that Lloyd George spoke for all the allies, however, when he communicated with the soviet authorities demanding that they stop the forward movement on the Polish frontier and asking them to arrange an armistice, to be followed, by a conference of delegates from all countries bordering on Russia.

SHAMROCK IV. BIDS FAIR TO TAKE THE CUP

By the Associated Press

SANDY HOOK, July 26.—Shamrock Four, the big green sloop, with which Sir Thomas Lipton hopes to lift the American's cup, sped first across the line today at the start of the fifth International Yacht race, which will decide the 1920 series.

Starting the first 15 mile leg of a 30 mile course, a run south by west half west out to sea, Shamrock passed over the starting line at 12:30:29 and her rival at 12:31:25, after the starting had been sounded at 12:30. At 12:50 Resolute passed Shamrock on the way to outer marks and was holding a better breeze.

Church News

Junior "L. of J." will meet tomorrow evening at 5:00. All the members are urged to come. C. V. DUNN, Leader.

Baptist Pastor Resigns.
Sunday night just before preaching, Rev. A. P. Elliff called the Oak Avenue Baptist Church into business session and then resigned as pastor to take place not later than the last day of this month. There were no reasons given. After a few minutes of silence a motion was made to adjourn the business meeting until prayer meeting Wednesday night at which time the resignation will come before the church.

The sermon Sunday night was on the "Beauty and Glory of the Bride" from the text "I have compared thee, Oh my love." There was one conversion and four additions to the church at the close of the sermon. There were 112 in Sunday School Sunday morning and the B. Y. P. U. rendered a fair program at its regular hour.

Services at the Methodist.
At the Sunday school hour there were 231 present with $17.41 collection.

At the evening service there was special music by the orchestra and men's quartet. Brother Taylor preached on "Magnificent Manhood." His sermon was a delight to his hearers. The sermon was something of a parallel of the sermon "Winsome Womanhood," however, the speaker brought out some very different facts and illustrations. The conclusion of a magnificent man on the whole would be one who lets God Almighty have full sway. All other men are merely part men.

GOVERNMENT OF IRELAND BILL TO STAND

By the Associated Press

LONDON, July 26.—The British government has no intention of withdrawing the government of Ireland bill, Premier Lloyd George stated in the House of Commons today. It would press the measure forward with all possible speed when the house reassembled after the holiday recess. Reports that the government was opening negotiations with representatives of the Sinn Feiners for the purpose of reaching a compromise as to the future rule of Ireland, were set at rest in the house by Premier Lloyd George. He was asked by Lord Robert Cecil as to whether the government was opening negotiations with any section of Ireland, and answered in the negative.

THE RUSSIANS TO CONFER WITH ALLIES AT ONCE

By the Associated Press

PARIS, July 26.—The proposal by the Russian-soviet government for a conference in London with all allies, as reported in last night's dispatch, will be the schedule of an exchange of views between Great Britain and France.

As viewed here the soviet government has seized the allied demand for an armistice with Poland as a pretext for a return to the original soviet campaign for official recognition of the Moscow government, and political circles in Paris regard the maneuver as a skillful one, which has placed some of the allies, particularly France, in a delicate position.

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—A second and much lighter shock was felt in Los Angeles at 8:59 a. m.

MR. BARRINGTON SAYS LEWIS MUST HANDS OFF

SPRINGFIELD, July 26.—President Frank Barrington, of the Illinois Union, issued a statement this morning, that "If Mr. Lewis will keep his hands off and the government will permit, the operators and miners in this state can get together, and within a very few hours work out a satisfactory arrangement, that will result in the resumption of work in Illinois."

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our many friends for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our father, R. L. Fowler. To us, those beautiful floral offerings and their donors will long be remembered. May God bless each and every one of you.

MRS. R. L. FOWLER AND CHILDREN.

Why the Voters Should Vote for Barney Selfridge for Sheriff

Mr. Farmer you should vote for him because he is a farmer himself. Mr. Laborer you should vote for him because he is a producer that helps to feed you. Mr. Drygoods man you should vote for him because he has a family of eight to clothe. Mr. Banker you should vote for him because he has been paying you interest for twenty years. Mr. Grocery man you should vote for him because he has eight months depending on him for food. Mr. School-teacher you should vote for him because he has six children to educate (that is why he is in Ada now). Mr. Hardware man you should vote for him because he has bought farming implements of you for the last twenty years.

Mr. Blacksmith you should hammer on the voters (like you have on Barney's tools) until they all agree to vote for him. Mr. Lawyer would increase their practice one hundred per cent. Mr. Preacher should also support him because it will protect religious worship. All women should vote for him because their homes would be made happier if we had a cleaner county. Young folks should vote for him because he stands for high morals. Little children should sing the song about Barney until their parents would not forget his name when they go to the polls to vote. All voters should turn a deaf ear to the politician and he would soon quit trying to steal your votes. He would have to get him a wooden bill and join the I Wont Work gang. Barney stands for law enforcement, not partial enforcement, but justice to all. Political adv. 7-24-2td.

CHICAGO RECALLS CANDIDATE'S WIFE AS CHARMING GIRL

Mrs. James M. Cox.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Chicago society has not forgotten the beauty and charm of Mrs. James M. Cox from the days when as a child she romped about the garden paths of Cherry farm, and tore along the country roads near Elmhurst, one of Chicago's exclusive suburbs, on her black pony.

Chicago folks remember her, too, as a golf enthusiast and tennis champion, "an all around girl, Margaretta," they said.

But if she becomes America's "first lady" this they say is the thing to remember: The potential first lady's first thought in her country's dark hour was her country.

Margaretta Blair—that was her name before her marriage—was one of the first of the young girls of Chicago to enlist for service in the war, and she took the first job that came and performed it well.

"She blew into the office of the Council of National Defense as soon as the call for volunteers went out," said Miss Elizabeth Allen of the Women's City Club, "and asked what she could do. They put her right to work answering calls at the telephone and she was great at it."

Branded Terrapin Is Found in Ada by Some Small Boys

A branded terrapin has been found on the premises of the home of W. B. Jones on east 8th street. The terrapin was found crawling about the place, and when Mr. Jones' little son examined the terrapin he found engraved on its shell the following words: "F. M. Shelton, May 31, 1916." Just how far the terrapin has traveled during the more than four years since it was branded is a matter of speculation. The words were cut in the shell of the terrapin as if with a knife or some other sharp instrument.

BOY DROWNED AT SULPHUR LAKE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

A report is given today of a boy being drowned at Sulphur yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. No parties in town seem to know his name. However, it is said his home is in Little Rock, Ark. He was with his parents in Sulphur at the time of his drowning. He had been in swimming and was sitting on a bank when he suddenly slipped off. No one at first suspected anything. After awhile divers rescued the body after life was extinct. It is said that the boy was subject to epileptic fits. He was about twenty years of age.

WAITED HIS TURN

1843—January 29, William McKinley born at Niles, O.
1861-65—In the Civil war.
1867—Became a lawyer in Canton, O.
1869-71—Prosecuting attorney of his county.
1871—Married Ida Saxton.
1877-91—Member of congress.
1892-96—Governor of Ohio.
1896—June, McKinley nominated for president by the Republican national convention at St. Louis. November, elected.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY challenged and disproved the old saying that the presidency casts its shadow on no man but once and that if the chance be missed then it will never come again. Twice the Republican nomination seemed to be within McKinley's reach—in the national conventions of 1888 and 1892. Each time he put it away, content to wait his proper turn, when he did not have to shake the tree to bring down the ripened fruit of his patience.

McKinley was beaten for the speakership by Thomas B. Reed in 1889, and he left Washington a defeated congressman only six years before he returned as president-elect. Had he been speaker, and, instead of Reed, incurred the title of "Czar," or had he not been turned out of congress... had he won those smaller honors he well might never have won the highest honor. A disappointment manfully borne enlists the popular sympathy, and the author of the McKinley bill entered the contest for the presidential nomination in 1896 as one who had suffered martyrdom in the cause of the protective tariff.

After teaching school a term or so, McKinley was called in the Civil war, that hard university which graduated the men who were to lead the nation

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 26. Courses proposed for the state normal schools next year have been approved by the state board of education with out change. The courses were submitted by the normal school presidents.

The new courses will constitute an additional two years work in the normal schools and students completing the entire schedule will receive collegiate degrees. The courses deal with specialized forms of school work, such as rural schools, primary schools, special high schools and general high schools.

Vacancies in normal school faculties will be filled by the school presidents, subject to the approval of the board, it was decided. The next meeting of the board probably will be in September.

THEFT OF AUTOS THIS YEAR SHOWS SOME DECREASE

by the Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 26.—There were 31,349 automobiles stolen in 19 of the larger cities of the United States in 1919 as compared with 25,613 in the same cities the previous year, according to figures compiled by the National Automobile Dealers' association and made public today at the association's headquarters here. This is an increase of 22.4 per cent.

Belief was expressed, however, that 1920 would show a material reduction in the number of stolen machines because of the Dyer law, which makes interstate transportation of stolen automobiles a federal offense.

Of the 31,349 cars stolen in 1919 23,32, or 74.4 per cent, were recovered. Cars not recovered were valued at approximately $8,658,360. New York again leads the cities in cars stolen, with 5,527 in 1919, against 3,340 in 1918. St. Louis was the only large city where the number was less than in 1918. This is accounted for by the fact that severe penalties have been assessed in automobile theft cases here as high as 20 years in the penitentiary being given in some instances for the theft of a single car.

William McKinley.

Mrs. William McKinley.

months the popular outcry of "Remember the Maine," the president yielded, and war was declared. In ten days Dewey had smashed the enemy squadron in Manila bay; in ten weeks another squadron was sunk or captured off Santiago; in three months and a half poor old Spain threw up the sponge.

It took twice as long to make peace as to make war. The Philippines caused all the trouble. As we had not captured the islands in the war, many believed that we should let them alone. But McKinley decided to demand from Spain the surrender of the Philippines.

Without waiting for ratification, the president dispatched a military expedition to take over the Philippines, proclaiming to the revolting Filipinos the policy of "benevolent assimilation." The resulting war dragged its unpleasant length for two years before the inhabitants unwillingly bowed to their new master.

It was the strange fortune of a president whose entire public life had been given exclusively to domestic questions to plant the flag in the distant Philippines and to send it to the pink walls of the Forbidden City of China. In the march on Peking for the rescue of the foreign legations from the siege of the Boxers, or Chinese revolutionists, the United States joined other powers for the first time in a military expedition.

Under the high statesmanship of John Hay, the secretary of state, the United States had already, before the Boxer rebellion, laid a restraining hand upon the nations that were looting Chinese territory and had drawn from them pledges to keep an "open door" to trade in the ports they were seizing at the point of the gun. The "open door" has remained ever since the chart of our course in the East. If we will only continue to follow it and should succeed in inducing others to follow it a while longer, until the giant of the Orient awakens from his long slumber and shakes off his foreign despoilers, an emancipated China will be the imposing monument of William McKinley's presidency.

through four decades. Having gone into the army as a private in the regiment of another president-to-be—Rutherford B. Hayes—he came out at twenty-two a captain, with the brevet title of major.

Becoming a lawyer at Canton, O., again he found himself in the midst of industries in their struggling infancy. And for 14 years he was the spokesman in congress of that industrial district.

The young major, when he came to Canton, was a clean-cut, up-standing figure, genial in his nature, but with a sober dignity. His readiness of speech, when on his feet, came from his practice of the art in the debating societies of his school days. His habits also had been properly formed in his boyhood when he joined the Methodist church at ten and grew up a youth who was as careful to keep his tongue as his collar clean.

All doors in the little town naturally swung open with a welcome to "such a nice young man," and a major to boot. Although he was yet poor, when Ida Saxton, the banker's daughter, who had been to school in New York city and who had just come back from Europe, smiled yes to him, while they were "taking a buggy ride" the banker smiled, too, and made them a wedding gift of one of the best houses in Canton. It was from the front porch of that honeymoon dwelling that McKinley made his campaign for the presidency in 1896.

McKinley's is one of the best—and one of the most pathetic—love stories in the domestic records of the presidency. With the birth of her second child, the wife was left an invalid. The death of both of her children within five years of her wedding day utterly overwhelmed her nervous organization, and her shattered health remained thenceforth the constant object of her husband's tender care.

Although he never could know from minute to minute when she would pass into a swoon, he made her his companion on his travels. Once when he hurried home from congress, and the physicians had given up hope of saving her, his own ministrations and his prayers through a long night at her bedside recalled her to life.

The News Bible Lesson

Proverbs 15:25-33.

The Lord will destroy the house of the proud, but he will establish the border of the widow.

The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the Lord; but the words of the pure are pleasant words.

He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house; but he that hateth gifts shall live.

The heart of the righteous studieth to answer; but the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.

The Lord is far from the wicked; but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart; and a good report maketh the bones fat.

The ear that heareth the reproof of life abideth among the wise.

He that refuseth instruction despiseth his own soul; but he that heareth reproof getteth understanding.

LOST ON THE DESERT

By Leon Bradshaw

(Student of East Central.)

(The story I shall relate is true, an experience of "Daddy's cow-boy girl," as I was styled by my father, and it occurred when I was a little girl in 1917 in Wyoming.)

The Lazy L M Ranch was situated at the foot of the Sweetwater mountains where the first sunbeams of the morning kissed their summits and later played down upon the weather beaten roof of the ranch house. Peering into the south as far as the eye could see, were the endless prairies, broken only by grazing herds of sleek, contented cattle. Looking northward toward Windy Ridge, only partly discernible among the shrubs, bubbling and sparkling in the morning sunshine, was the "life of the prairies," the great Sweetwater Seeps. Off to the west and dazzling like yellow "Lazy Lawrence," and glittering in the sun with a strange wild beauty, was "the desert."

Everyone was gone to East Meadow to brand cattle that day, and I had not been permitted to go on account of my pony being lame, so, naturally, I felt rather peeved at having to stay at home, since I had always been used to going wherever Dad did.

In the corral a "cayuse," a kind of wild horse of the worst type, moved restlessly up and down and "nickered" to the other ponies. He had never been thoroughly broke, and only a few of the best cowboys could master him. I had often felt a strange desire to try my skill, but my father would not permit it, so when I saw the cayuse in the corral, a sudden notion struck me, and I said, "Now is my chance to carry out the little scheme that I have nurtured so long: I will saddle the cayuse and ride out to the meadow anyway."

So I got the long rope from my saddle horn, and, climbing upon the fence, I let the lasso spin thru the air and "lariat" him fast just as he was making a half turn to the left. I drew him up short, and, after much difficulty and many trials, I managed to get him bridled and saddled. Then I threw open the gate and swung into the saddle. I thought he would go straight to the meadow and to the other ponies, but instead he swerved to the right, swung out west across the prairie, and headed straight for the desert.

I tried with all my young strength to turn him from his course, but he only bent his head and swung into a jerky lope. No amount of jerking on my part could change him from the course he seemed destined to take.

I was afraid to jump for fear I would be smashed to pieces. I lost my hat, and my hair was hanging in disorder about my face and down my back; I could only watch with sinking heart and growing fear the desert looming up before me. Home was now faded far behind, so far out was I.

The sun beat down upon the desert, making it almost unbearable. There was nothing from north to south, from east to west but sand, sand, yellow, blistering sand—as far as the eye could see. It seemed so desolate, only being broken and irregular with here and there darker patches that marked the path of an old lava bed. Lizards hurried in different directions, the only living thing it seemed that could stand forty-eight hours of desert heat and not die. I was "all in" and I clung to the saddle-horn with all the strength I had left to keep me from falling. I wondered how much further he could go without giving out. Then, all of a sudden I had a funny feeling of being lifted into mid-air. I struck something hard, head and shoulders first, then all was total "darkness."

When I became conscious, the sun was going down. The horse I had ridden was standing a few feet away with head down and with his feet wide apart, braced. Blood was dripping from his nostrils. A stifling heat lay over the desert like a "shroud." My head felt dizzy and unclear. Shooting pains ran through my temples and over my eyes. A huge gash, clotted with blood and dust, was on my head showing I had hit a stone or a sharp piece of lava. I tried to rise but I could not. Sharp pains in my back and shoulders made me fall back upon the sand, and I felt so weak; and for the first time in my life, "Afraid!"

Did you ever see death staring you in the face, and when you knew it must come, and yet you hoped against hope that it would not? I knew that it was a matter of only a few short hours, when I would pass in my final checks and be numbered with the "has-beens." If relief did not come at once. Then I thought of Dad, dear old kind-hearted dad. And the very thoughts of leaving him made me desperate, and I tried again to climb to my feet. But with all the courage and strength I could muster, I only succeeded in getting to my knees, and that never to be forgotten binding pain and weakness that crept over me made me sink once more upon the ground utterly exhausted, and so sick!

My lips were dry and parched, my throat was swollen and covered with dust, and queer spots danced before my eyes. I wondered how much longer it would be before I would get out of all this almost unbearable pain that I was suffering. I thought of all the mean things I had done. If I prayed, and I did, it was because I really meant it. I thought perhaps God might have time to hear one wee little prayer even if it was sent up from the desert and at the eleventh hour; And so I prayed.

The moon almost as dull and colorless as the sand itself, slowly climbed the heavens and each hour seemed to drag. "Would day light never come?" I thought I wanted the dawn, yet I dreaded it, for I was so weak.

The long-drawn dismal howl of the coyote pierced the "grave" that I seemed doomed to occupy. O, the loneliness and stillness of that night—I shiver.

From far away to the west it seemed came a faint but distinct sound of three shots fired in quick succession; and I knew at least hoped that they were looking for me. That was some relief, but I wondered if they would find me in time. I was fast growing weaker, and the pain was so intense and almost unbearable. A steady flow stream of blood was flowing from a wound on my shoulder, and I knew and realized only too well, that I was soon to be no more. O "horror" crept over me! Minutes seemed like ages. Lying almost in a stupor, I could hear the repeated sound of distant shots growing nearer and nearer. I tried to answer but found my voice smothered in my throat, and I could give forth no sound. Tears came to my eyes as hope after hope faded. I was almost ready to give up in despair when the sound of a voice drifted to me as if in a dream; then a shout, "Thank God, we have found her!"

Something cool flowed into my mouth and partly relieved the dryness and feverishness of my throat; and I felt strangely calm and happy, happier than ever before. The arms that held me so close and tenderly were strong, and he would shield me from the desert, pain was forgotten; and I closed my eyes and breathed a sigh of relief. I was with my dear loving dad, and nothing else mattered.

The man who makes the most noise talking makes the least noise thinking.

THIS ACTOR IS NO 'AMMITUDE'

While Nazimova was at work on her latest screen production, "The Heart of a Child," Charles Bryant's adaptation of the novel by Frank L. Baum, the brilliant Metro star received an application for a position in her company from a man to whom she hands the palm as the most versatile performer in the world. "The Heart of a Child" shows at the McSwain Theatre Thursday and Friday.

The writer of the epistle, according to his own appraisal of his accomplishments, could double in "close-ups" for a chameleon.

Here is his letter: "I, Elmer E. Gilmor, do hereby apply as a man for small parts with your Company. I am known Ammiture. I have three years experience such as Barker, ticket agent, black face & Irish. I have up to date Swede & Irish Jokes and can repair scenery and can Manufacture Mechanical scenery."

"I also say that I guarantee good satisfaction all through and would mention that I can make up for Comic black face and am all a round athletic can do head and hand springs, shoulder springs and front knocks. I enclose a letter head for which you can see with what company I was with for the time I been out until three weeks ago. We had had luck at blandon hall."

"We burnt out. "I lost five costumes to day. Only own 1 black wig and 1 Swede outfit which I had not with the company. Had I taken them along they might be gone. I have been getting $12 per week, but would work for less. I assure you we get know fall out. I also say I can get for you a young emotion woman who will work cheap for you and would say she is a moral Girl and banjo player at that and she can sing Commie."

"I remain yours in Honest Industry and sobriety."

Coming to the McSwain Theatre next Thursday and Friday, July 29 and 30. Special music features the pictures.

Solid Mahogany for every man's money

These days, when so much period furniture has a Queen Anne front and a Mary Ann back, it seems good to accidentally stumble onto a piece of good old solid mahogany—even in the dark.

Solid Mahogany — that's the word. We like to liken it to our values, for both are hewed out of the solid timber—not glued up with veneer.

Every price ticket in this store can be turned bottom side up and reviewed. They are not like the false back Davenport that must be cornered to be correct.

We're sawing wood down here at 107 West Main Street.

AND IT'S SOLID MAHOGANY.

BIG CHAUTAUQUA COMING TO ADA

Ada is to have one of the best Chautauquas this summer that has ever been in this section of Oklahoma. "Chautauqua Week" will be from August 23rd to August 28th inclusive. The Chautauque Companies, now playing from the Alleghenies to the Pacific, are putting on this Chautauqua under the auspices of the Young Matron's Club of the First Christian church of Ada.

The Chautauqua is nationally recognized as an institution that furnishes both education and amusement. It makes for finer communities and better homes, nobler men and women, and more civilized, christianized living. Its aim is to entertain and while entertaining to instruct,—to point the way to honest and sincere living. It is an especially refreshing form of amusement today as contrasted with many of the so-called "shows" which infest Oklahoma.

The coming Chautauqua program is a very attractive one. It includes a magnificent array of talent. There will be three programs daily, one each morning for children, and then an afternoon and evening entertainment for both the children and the grown-ups. It will be under a big canvas tent, the location to be announced later.

The money derived from this Chautauqua over and above the expenses of it, will remain in Ada and will be used by the Young Matron's Club of the First Christian church toward the interior furnishings of the new church to be built. The Young Matron's have undertaken to buy this furniture and as a means of help they are bringing the Chautauqua to Ada. By this means they hope to derive financial benefit, and at the same time to give the citizens of Ada and Pontotoc County something in return, not only in the way of entertainment but also something in the way of information and inspiration, suggestion and council, and something that will be of lasting good to the County. The program, of which a more extended announcement will be made later, is as follows:
